SACNAS (Society for Advancement of Chicanos/Hispanics and Native Americans in Science)

We are dedicated to fostering the success of Chicano/Latinos and Native Americans from college students to professionals in attaining advanced degrees, careers, and positions of leadership in STEM.

All are welcomed! Our purpose is to create a welcoming community.

We meet every other Tuesday from 5-6 pm.

If interested to join our list serve please email zuritacc@oregonstate.edu

We are having a donation drive next week, we are collecting hygiene products such as shampoo, razors, soap, toothbrushes and other things on week 6, in participation with Adopt a Month. We would love to have this flyer advertised.

The poster features a light gray background with several pink roses and scattered petals. The text is arranged in a central column, framed by a thin black border. The word "VALENTINES" is in large, bold, red letters, while the rest of the text is in black.

Collegiate Farm Bureau

Club events in the past have included sending members to the annual Young Farmers and Ranchers Leadership Conference, and various industry tours to hazelnut, hemp, grass seed, potato, and other farms up and down the valley including highlights such as Wooden Shoe Tulip Farm and Sauvie Island Pumpkin Patch. We use meetings to prepare members for upcoming conferences or leadership events and bring in industry representatives to learn about their careers and opportunities for students in their field.

The next meeting will be during week 5 on February 6th at 7 pm. We will be recapping highlights from the #TimberUnity rally and discuss what the rest of the term holds for our club!

Oregon State University Collegiate Farm Bureau Club

The goal of the OSU Collegiate Farm Bureau is to engage in advocacy, leadership, and networking opportunities within the agriculture and natural resources industries. We are closely connected with Oregon Farm Bureau and have opportunities for students to be involved with local, state, and national Farm Bureau events.

Bi-weekly meeting in the Crop Science Building Room 122! Our next meeting will be February 6th at 7pm!

Fisheries and Wildlife Graduate Student Association

Grad victory at the 1st annual Grads vs. Faculty Kickball Game in May 2019!

We're FWGSA—a group that supports graduate students in the Fisheries and Wildlife Department at Oregon State University. We focus on improving communication between graduate students and faculty, encouraging collaboration and exchange of ideas within the department, and increasing the educational and professional development opportunities for graduate students in our department

One of our most successful professional development and networking events of the year is coming up in April, and we'd love to see people come out and participate!

Research Advances in Fisheries, Wildlife, and Ecology Symposium

The Research Advances in Fisheries, Wildlife, and Ecology Symposium (or more simply—RAFWE) is an annual event that showcases graduate and undergraduate research in fisheries, wildlife and ecology through oral and poster presentations.

RAFWE 2020: Our 17th Annual Symposium.

The symposium is an all-day event that will be held at the LaSells Stewart Center on April 10, 2020 (so mark your calendars!) and will feature graduate and undergraduate student talks and posters, a plenary address from Dr. Lauren Rogers of NOAA's Alaska Fisheries Science Center, free lunch for registered attendees, a silent and live auction, and a lunchtime trivia competition!

If you are an undergraduate or graduate student with relevant research (at any stage, including proposed work) and are interested in presenting, please use this form:

<https://forms.gle/2R2iU1ALQqgmFe8> (log into ONID to access).

For questions about abstract submission, please contact Ryan Baumbusch (ryan.baumbusch@oregonstate.edu) or Jennifer Nelson (jennifer.e.nelson@oregonstate.edu). If are interested in attending, but not presenting, please check our website regularly for updates at: <https://fw.oregonstate.edu/fisheries-and-wildlife/research-advances-fisheries-wildlife-and-ecology-symposium-rafwe-0>

If you are not able to attend, but would like to support the event, feel free to contact Scott Mitchell (scott.mitchell@oregonstate.edu) about donating to our silent or live auction!

Dr. Lauren Rogers
from NOAA's Alaska
Fisheries Science
Center will be the 2020 Plenary Speaker

We hope to see you there!

Organic Grower's Club

The Organic Growers Club is a student-run, volunteer-based organic farm, and has functioned as a service-learning community for 20 years!

The OSU Organic Growers Club farm is located on ~2 acres of OSU agricultural research land, and has gained the support of many forward-thinking faculty and administrative folks which have helped us to grow into a student organization with over 300 members and 400 community clients!

We grow tons of different fruits and veggies, the bulk of which we sell to the on-campus community. Proceeds from our veggie sales go directly back into farm operations, fund summer internships, and are used to support many philanthropic activities in the Corvallis area. We manage a farmer's market stand during the summer, and supply weekly produce boxes to 25 CSA (community supported agriculture) members for 27 about weeks out of the year.

Upcoming Events!

Winter Wake Up!!! There's still much to do in the winter!!! Come hear the State of the Farm Address!!! Come help us start the 10,000 onion seeds that will be planted on Earth Day!!! We need you!!! Free hot supper!!! Bring a bowl!!! Bring friends!!!

When and Where??? February 11th: 5:30pm - 8:00pm in ALS 0012

Hoo Haa!!! EARTH DAY!!! The Hoo Haa is our largest annual event, where 10,000 onion starts are planted... by you and the community! Come enjoy free music, home-cooked food, and spring-time festivities! Event runs from 2:00pm - sundown on April 22nd. Transportation will be available from campus to the farm! Subscribe to our email for more information!

Regular Activities Include:

- Sunday School! Every Sunday, 9:00am -12:00am at the farm!
- Thursday Night Work Parties! 4:30pm - dark, free hot supper around 7:30pm! Will begin later this month and continue through October!

Directions to the farm can also be found on our website. Want more information? Check us out online at <https://cropandsoil.oregonstate.edu/organic-growers-club>, or contact club presidents Lena Wilhelm and Claire Kirk directly! We can answer questions, get you on the email list, anything to help! We hope to see you at the farm!
